McKINLEY AND WILSON ABROAD.

In 1890 William McKinley was burned in effogy in the English manufacturing city of Sheffield: but in 1894 William B. Wisson was dined and wined in London because he is the author of a Free-tvade Tariff Bill. These are eignificant facts.

DURING the twelve months ending becember 31st, 1894, we shipped abroad to foreign countries over 1,000,000 bales more of raw cotton than during the cai-endar year 1893, the Cotton Statistics. exact quantity be ing 614,000,000 of pounds of cotten greater than we said a year earlier.

This is very encouraging, and indicates great prespectly for the Southern sertion of the country where our cotton is grown until we turn to the values, where we and that cotton growers received $3,700,000 less money for the larger quantity cotton which they sold in 1894 than was paid to them for a smaller quantity which they sold in 1893, in other words, the cotton growers of the United States planted, cultivated, harvested and marketed some 700,000,000 nounds of and marked some FORMANAMAN pounds of raw cutton and simply made a gift of it to the manufacturers in the fulled Kington, Germany, France, British North America and Mexico. The Gorman Tariff spenel these foreign markets, and they were undoubtedly wide open and waiting to receive our cotton our such terms. This is a condi-tion that particular and the process it.

DURING 1894 our exports of agricultural mplements were worth #190,000 has a negro. I've behaves himself to the markets of the world spen to us, which the manufacturers of agricultural machiners, as a rule, have claimed was all they wanted, and that Protection was of ne benefit to them whatever.
